About Us

HackPHS is a hackathon in Princeton, NJ that brings a 24-hour hackathon experience to 200+ high schoolers.

This past December, we ran hackPHS 2017, a 12-hour MLH Local Hack Day. We had over 50 attendees and a 30% gender ratio, 12% above the average in CS related fields. This year, we hope to expand upon the success of our previous event and grow to 24 hours with 200+ hackers. We also hope to improve our gender ratio to as close to 50% as possible.

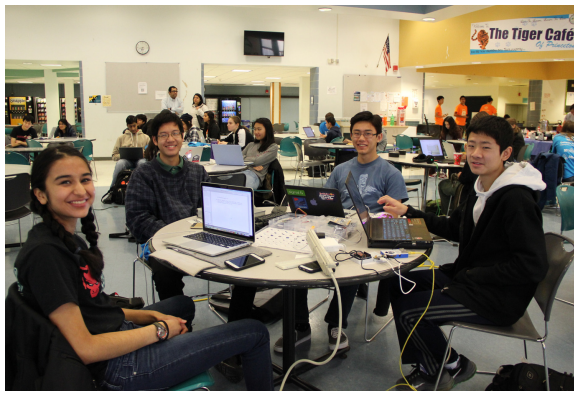

We aim to have a diverse group of hackers, with people from many different schools, backgrounds, and skills. Check out last year's hackathon at <http://2017.hackphs.tech/>!

What is a hackathon?

Not to be confused with the illegal form of hacking, hackathons are collaborative events for anyone with an interest in technology (not just CS students!) to build and share a project over 24 hours.

Why sponsor?

Becoming a sponsor of hackPHS gives you an extremely large impact on the programmers of the future. As many high students are new to computer science or are not sure if they want to pursue STEM or technology, you have the opportunity to students, both giving your brand a larger consumer base and promoting valuable skills among the next generation.

Where will your money go?

Your money will be going into paying for our venue, food, swag, prizes, and all the other details needed to run a hackathon.

Other ways to help!

Monetary donation
Sponsor a meal
Sponsor a mini-event at hackPHS
Provide hackers with tools/resources to use at the event (e.g hosting, domains, hardware)
